Citizens Protest.

Editor Daily Light:

About June 15, last, you reported the proceedings of a banquet of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce at which representatives of the Medina Irrigation company made addresses criticising land owners in the Medina reservoir for their failure to sell lands to the company.

On the 22nd and 23rd of August you published criticisms of the land owners and their representatives made by directors of the Chamber of Commerce both orally and by written resolutions. None of the criticisms named any particular individual. But as your paper and others have recently printed the names of the land owners in the reservoir in reporting the condemnation suits filed by the company in the federal court against them, and as we are some of the land owners sued, we feel that we should protest, firstly against the criticisms by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and secondly, against the criticisms at the banquet by the representatives of the company.

We protest against the criticisms by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce because we do not believe that it is organized and financed by the business men composing its membership for the purpose of having anything to do with private disputes and law suits such as the one between the company and the land owners. If, however, the Chamber of Commerce was organized for such purposes, then we protest because we believe that before the directors made the criticisms orally and by resolutions they should have sought information from the land owners or their representatives, as well as from the company's representatives. But this they failed to do.

We protest against the criticisms made by the company's representatives at the banquet as well as by the resolutions of the directors named because they contain erroneous assumptions of fact and of law as seen by the land owners, and we write this letter to state the facts and law as seen by some of the land owners. The owners of the company also own about 60,000 acres of land below Castroville and the company and its representatives are advertising that they will irrigate this land from its ditches running from the waters impounded by its dams. The company also owns the two dam sites on the Medina river and the land in the reservoir between the two dams. It is a well known fact that practically no other land can be irrigated besides this 60,000 acres. The company owns a few hundred acres in the natural reservoir lying in and above the upper dam, but nearly all of this land in the upper reservoir has for a long time belonged to the land owners, for whom we are protesting.

The error of all the criticisms named is that they assume that the reservoir land owners are under some legal or moral obligation to sell their lands to the company. We contend that they are neither under a legal nor a moral obligation to do so. They are under a legal obligation to do so under section 17, article 1, of the Texas constitution if the Medina Irrigation company is a public service corporation. But when its owners choose to serve their own land from the company's ditches instead of serving land of the general public, then the company is not a public service corporation and cannot under the constitution force the land owners to sell their lands. Only the courts can settle this point if the company contends that it is a public service corporation. In all candor, should the land owners be criticised because they have refused to sell their lands and homes until it is decided by law that they must do so? Let every director of the Chamber of Commerce put himself in the position of one of the land owners. Let him see his pioneer parents from Germany blazing the way along the Medina river for homes for his children. Let him remember his childhood, youth and manhood, spent upon these lands. Let him see in himself a small farmer with ordinary ability and without the money-making ability of a business man. Let him have no property, or interests that could be benefited by the building of the dams and ditches. Then we ask, would he, under such circumstances, sell his lands and homes in the reservoir until the law compels him to sell them, or would he keep them until then? Will he answer this question by saying that a small land owner should be compelled by law to sell his land to a large land owner because the large land owner has millions instead of thousands of dollars and for that reason can own larger quantities of land and make them more productive, even though there is no law to compel the large land owner to sell the increased production at cheaper prices?

But if we admit for the argument that the law compels the land owners to sell their lands to the company, then should they be criticised because the company has offered them a price for their land that they have refused to take? How can it be said that the price that has been offered them is a just compensation until the courts first say what is a just compensation? If the Medina Irrigation company is a public service corporation and as such has the right to take the lands of the land owners, then under the section of the constitution quoted above, it must pay just compensation in pursuance of modes laid down by law before it has the right to take the lands. These modes are the condemnation proceedings that the company has brought, as already stated. But until these condemnation proceedings have determined that the land owners must sell their lands and have determined that just compensation has been paid the land owners, we say, that so far as we are concerned, we will not permit the company to forcibly take our lands if we can prevent it by injunction or any other legal way. Should the land owners or their lawyers be criticised or denounced for doing this?

We do not wish to be understood as criticising, much less abusing or denouncing the irrigation company, its officers or the directors of the Chamber of Commerce. The doing of these things are usually the weapons of a weak cause. We believe our cause is just and we rest it with the judges and the courts. If they decide that we must sell our lands, we will do so at the price they fix, but in the meantime we will use every legal method to keep possession of our lands until the courts have decided. If they decide that we cannot be forced to sell our lands, then we will keep them until we desire to part with them.

Not The Caffeine That Hurts

From the mass of evidence given by expert witnesses before Judge Sanford of the Federal Court at Chattanooga last spring, one fact stands out preeminently, namely: that what ever unpleasant effects may be experienced by some people from the drinking of tea or coffee those effects are not due to the Caffeine contained in these beverages. Learned scientists, college and university professors and physicians of national reputation testified that Caffeine has an advantage effect in refreshing the body and mind and when taken in the customary amount is devoid of any injurious effects.

Practical experiments made upon human beings by Dr. Hollingworth, instructor in the Department of Psychology of Columbia University prove conclusively that caffeine is not only harmless to mankind, but is an aid in the performance of work. It is the only known stimulant that quickens the functions of the human body without a subsequent period of depression. According to Dr. Hollingworth, caffeine acts as a lubricant, as it were, for the nervous system and has an actual physical action whereby the nerves are enabled to do their work more easily.

From Falfurrias.

Falfurrias, Texas, July 16, 1912.
Miller Brothers Company,
Falfurrias, Texas.

I left Hondo Texas, in a wagon, on July 1st 1912 and drove through the country to Falfurrias, Texas. In driving through I stopped one day at Matthis, Texas; one day at Sandia and one day in Alice. I arrived in Falfurrias on Saturday, the 13th. Soon after arriving I met the Miller Brothers and we arranged to drive to Copita at noon and after dinner drove over the country and inspected the crops and found cotton and feed crops very fine.

I consider the Copita Country an ideal farming country with good land and an abundance of good water easily obtained. After spending the day in the Copita Country, we returned to Falfurrias and had a good night's rest at the Park Hotel and by an arrangement with Mr. Garland Miller, we met at his office on the following day and drove over his home-place and shared his hospitality for an hour. In order for us to get a better view of the surrounding country, he invited us to his roof garden and there we had a view of one of Mr. Lasater's fine dairy farms and also a splendid view of the city of Falfurrias, then back to the Hotel for dinner.

Mr. Miller agreed to call for us at 2:30 and carry us out to see the fine dairy herds and milk stations of his brother-in-law, Mr. Lasater. After arriving at the station, we found one of the finest Jersey Herds, imported from the Island of Jersey, our eyes ever looked upon, and found the management up to date, as we consider, and looked over his ideal home and water-works, and wound up by visiting his fine herd of Tamworth hogs. We passed back through his fine farm and saw fine crops growing.

We consider that Mr. Lasater and Miller Brothers are doing a great deal for the development of this country. After looking over this country, we do not see one word of inflation in Miller Brothers literature. In fact, the half has not been told about what can be done in the Falfurrias County with diversification and good management. Anyone who studies the fine breeds of horses, mules, hereford cattle, jersey cattle, hogs and sheep which they have here, and the cotton, sorghum cane, kaffir corn, milo maize, cow peas and spanish peanuts and the fruit development, will be convinced of this.

Yours truly,

A. J. SWEARINGEN.

Duke of Westminster. Reputed World's Wealthiest Man. Becomes Owner of Hudson car.

American automobiles have found favor with British royalty.

News of the purchase of an American automobile—the Hudson—the Duke of Westminster, of England, reputed the richest man in the world, was received today by C. W. Roberts, the Hudson dealer here.

The Duke became owner of two Hudsons, one of which is for the use of his mother. The other is his personal car and he utilizes it in driving about his property interests in and about London, which are very large.

The income of the richest man in the world is said to be seven million pounds sterling a year, or $35,000,000. His wealth was acquired through the ownership of a large land estate, which through the growth of London became city property.

The Duke of Westminster purchased the Hudson cars for the reason that he believed them to be the "best, handiest and most reliable moderate-sized car on the market."

The Duke of Westminster is but one of a number of titled Britons who have become owners of American cars largely for the same reason advanced in the purchase of the Hudson, A. among the British nobility some of those who own Hudson cars are: Lord Harrington, Evaston Castle, Derby; Lord Worsley, London; the Earl of Lanesborough, London; Sir D. Haig, Commander-in-chief of the post at Aldershot; General Bingham, etc.

The American automobile is playing a prominent part in royal travel. American automobiles and British royalty have come together frequently, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught—the former being the Uncle of King George—utilized the Hudson as their official car during the fall civic reception given them in Victoria Park, Sidney, Nova Scotia. They were accompanied by Capt. T. Rivers Bulkeley, equerry to his Royal Highness.

The Duke is the son of the late Queen Victoria, a brother of the late King Edward and the uncle of the present monarch of Great Britain. He is Governor General of Canada.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I now it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

I finally found time enough to try to inform you of my whereabouts. I am assistant foreman, in Extra Gang on the Santa Fe Ry., out of Los Angeles. I started to work here on July 3rd, and I like it fine. I think that California is one of the best states that I have ever been to in all of my life. It may look, or seem, laughable to you to mention people wearing overcoats here in the morning and late of an evening during the months of July and August. It is fine to work here, nice and cool here almost all day long. It doesn't get as hot as in Texas. A person here has to sleep under heavy cover, as it gets very chilly in California.

Talk of fruit! Words cannot express how nice orchards people are having here, fruit of all kinds, and you can buy it at your own price. Irish Potatoes are now selling here retail 75 lbs. for $1.00. Living is just as cheap here as in Texas, and perhaps somewhat cheaper, as canned fruits, jelly and preserves are one-third cheaper than in Texas. Dry goods are far cheaper here in Los Angeles than in Texas.

I will admit that canned meats are high here, as beef now is selling 20c per lb. Last week cattle sold here for 9c per lb on the hoof. What I mean is live weight which I read in the Los Angeles paper.

Friend Davis, changing, I will say, please send the Anvil Herald to my address below, as I think it's the only paper to learn how people in Medina Co., are getting along. Now, I will come to a close with best of wishes.

Your friend,

HIS BIT OF EMPIRE.

It is a well known fact that some Englishmen are more inclined to talk about the Empire's fringe, of which they are ignorant, rather than about its heart, which they possibly know something of. A housewife whose husband was addicted this way turned his thoughts into more homely channels by her ready wit.

One Saturday evening he came home late smelling strongly of tobacco, and very red in the face.

"Oh," he said, "I've had a fine time. I've been to an Empire meeting. It was grand."

Then he frowned and said, impatiently:—

"What's the matter with supper? Ain't it ready yet?"

His wife, who was peeling potatoes and holding a squalling boy, rose and extended the baby to him.

"Here," she said; "take hold of your bit of the Empire while I fry these chips."

WHY A BACHELOR.

Hinten—I've a mind to get married. Henpeck—If you had a mind you wouldn't think of such a thing.

Sweet Melody.

"Tis sweet, indeed, to hear the hen lift up her voice a peg; For now when cost of living's high It means another egg."

His Economy.

The children in the Blank family were taught habits of neatness at the table by being compelled to pay a fine of one cent for every spot they put on the tablecloth. One day Harold, a boy of seven years, was discovered rubbing the overhanging part of the cloth between his fingers, and when taken to task for it, he said:—

"Why, I must just try to rub two spots into one."—Woman's Home Companion.

Not So Very Romantic.

"Gloriana," faltered the ardent youth, "is this the end?"

"Reginald," she answered, with a world of compassion in her soft brown eyes, "it is!"

Wary of the strain of holding the skein of flossy yarn which the maiden had been winding into a ball, Reginald dropped his exhausted arms to his sides and drew a long breath of relief.

The Reason.

"Though actors are superstitious as a rule, they are not afraid of being in haunted houses."

"They are not?"

"No; you can't scare an actor by putting him any place where the ghost walks."

In Disgrace.

Mother—Tommy, why don't you play with Frank any more? I thought, you were such good chums?

Tommy—We was, but he's a molly-coddle. He paid ter git inter ther ball grounds.—Suburban Life.

REASON ENOUGH.

Philomena—Why do you call him an educated monkey?
Virginia—Because he is a proficient in the higher branches.

Where She Excels.

She may not be able to hit a cat, Nor, hammering nails, come nigh; But she can securely spike on a hat And the wildest wind defy.

Surprising.

"Our silly servant lit the kitchen fire with coal oil the other morning, and ruined the stove."

"Did you discharge her?"

"No. We haven't found her yet."

Master Malaprop.

"Pa, I know how to pronounce 'investigate.'"

"Well, how?"

"Teacher told us it is pronounced with the accent on the antepeanut."

MEDINA COUNTY GREAT FAIR! AND BIG CORONATION! SEPT. 9 to 14 HONDO SEPT. 9 to 14 6—DAYS SPORT—6 AUTORACES HORSE

No. 1679.

Citation by Publication.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT, Mattie Calk vs. J. C. Calk, JUDICIAL DIST. OF TEXAS, THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Medina County—GREETING:

You Are Hereby Commanded, that by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Medina, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 38th judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 38th judicial district, for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon J. C. Calk, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the County of Medina at the court house thereof, in Hondo, Texas, on the 8th Monday after the 1st Monday in September, 1912, the same being the 28th day of October, 1912, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court on the 2nd day of March, A. D. 1912, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1679, wherein Mattie Calk is plaintiff and said J. C. Calk is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: That she is a bona-fide resident of the State of Texas and has resided in Medina County for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit, and defendant's residence is unknown. That plaintiff and defendant were legally married on or about the 14th day of March, A. D. 1910, in Devine, Medina County, Texas, and that said marriage relations still exist. That they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 17th day of March, 1910. That plaintiff during the time she lived and cohabited with defendant conducted herself with propriety and at all times treated her husband, the defendant, with kindness and forbearance, but that defendant, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vow and his obligation to treat plaintiff with kindness and attention, within one day after his marriage to plaintiff commenced a course of unkind, harsh and tyrannical conduct toward her which continued until he left and separated from plaintiff on or about March 17, 1910. That on divers occasions while plaintiff lived with defendant he was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment and outrages toward her of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable. That on or about the 17th day of March, 1910, at their home in Devine, Texas, defendant cursed and abused plaintiff, and, among other things, called her a damned old liar, and drew a gun on her and told her that if she did not pay his debts he would kill her. That the defendant is a man of violent passions and ungovernable temper and that on several occasions during the time plaintiff lived with him defendant addressed to her the most opprobrious epithets and threats of personal violence and repeatedly threatened to take her life. Plaintiff alleges that defendant's actions and conduct toward her are of such a nature as to render their future living together as husband and wife insupportable.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays the Court that defendant be cited, by publication, to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity, that she may be justly entitled to.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Hondo, Texas, this, the 4th day of September, A. D. 1912. Issued same day.

[L. S.] AUGUST KEMPE, Clerk District Court, Medina County, Texas.

Paint-Wise

is to paint when your property needs it. Paint-foolish to wait for the price to go-down.

But so many are foolish, they'll wait a good while.

The whole rise in the cost of a job is 10 percent. The first year's drop won't be more than half that, more likely a quarter.

Waiting for 5 percent, more likely 2 1/2. The average job (with Devoe) is $50; 5 percent, $2.50. Put it off for $2.50? Guess not.

You think of that job as $100. So it is with inferior paint.

Paint Devoe; do it now, if your property needs it.

Many thousands of pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

The customer came forward to attend to the nervous old beau who was mopping his bald and shining poll with a big silk handkerchief. "And what can I do for you?" he asked.

"I want a little help in the way of a suggestion," said the old fellow. "I intend going to the French Students' masquerade ball tonight, and I want a distinctly original costume—something I may be sure no one else will wear. What would you suggest?"

The customer looked him over attentively, bestowing special notice on the gleaming knob. "Well I'll tell you," he said then, thoughtfully: "why don't you sugar your head and go as a pill?"

The offer of the Fair Management to give a premium for the best exhibit of corn made by any representative of a Boy's Corn Club in Medina County is an opportunity which the boys should improve by showing the public what the coming farmers can do.

The Hondo Anvil Herald thinks that even a whispered call to duty can be heard by a deaf man if the salary is sufficient. We've heard that said afore now.—Houston Post. Verily there is nothing new under the sun—including even this observation!

QUITE a number of Hondo's young people have gone away to school for the coming session and others will follow their example in the near future. The Anvil Herald congratulates these young people and wishes for each of them a full fruition of their ambition for an education.

The scalp bounty bill went into effect on the first of this month and hereafter the commissioners court will pay a bounty of $1.00 on the skins of all wolves or wild cats killed in the county. The county will be re-imposed by the state to the amount of two thirds of the bounty paid out.

ONE of the things that makes most for a strong and influential school in any community is for the school to be affiliated with the institutions of higher education over the state so that a diploma from one of these local schools will be accepted in lieu of an entrance examination to the higher institution. This is something that has been too long neglected in Hondo's educational system.

ELSEWHERE we reprint from the San Antonio Light a communication from citizens residing near the damsite protesting against certain actions taken by San Antonio's Chamber of Commerce. It is a well deserved rebuke to an association of men who should be too wise to allow themselves to be made parties to a private quarrel, especially at a time when the issues involved in the quarrel are pending before the courts of the land for adjudication. The Anvil Herald will not make the same error that the Chamber of Commerce has made in assuming to judge the cause off-hand, but we believe that it is not inappropriate to suggest that the Irrigation Company will be the gainer in the long run by showing a disposition to respect the rights and feelings of the complaining citizens in the matter. The enterprise is a big thing and we all want to see it made a success. One of the prime essentials of this success is a friendly feeling for it on the part of the people among whom the property is located. And whether this feeling shall be one of friendship or enmity is largely within the making of the Irrigation Company.

"The worst of Eagle Pass" alleys is better than the best streets we have in Hondo," says one of the prominent citizens of the last named burg. But that is all to be remedied now that Fletcher Davis has Colquitt elected, and one of Hondo's hog pens moved across the street. Davis can give more attention to home improvements now.—Eagle Pass News Guide. Shake not your gory locks at us. The Anvil Herald has tattooed a chorus on this very point of civic improvement with an iteration that has become damning—if not damnable—but too many of our people are from Missouri and have to go away from home to be shown!

All Ready For The Fair.

Hondo's second annual Fair will open here next Monday, with a grand street parade that will form at the Fair Grounds, half a mile north of town, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and parade the principal streets of the town. Much time and labor has been devoted to the preparations for the Fair and it is expected to far exceed that of last year in magnitude and importance.

Agricultural, stock, poultry, mechanical, industrial and trade displays will be the main features while amusement stunts too numerous to mention will add zest and interest to the occasion throughout the week.

Society will have an opportunity to regale itself from the opening parade, when the Queen of the Carnival will appear in all her glory, until the last good-night waltz is played at the final ball.

The contest for the honor of being the queen awakened considerable interest and resulted in the selection of Miss Lorine de Montel by a majority of 12,000 votes over the next highest opponent. In the parade Monday and at the coronation exercises Tuesday night at the Auditorium, she will attend by the following:

Flower Girls: Octavia Davis, Lorine Heath, Dorothy Metzger, Ethel Hutzler, Evelyn Wilson and Ruth Rothe.

Plag Boys: Wallace Heath, Jules Schmitt, Elmer Leinweber, Frank Sayers, Randolph Metzger and Willie Muennink.

Maids of Honor: Mamie Rothe, Nita Bradley, Marguerite Patterson, Marie Filleman, Verna Mae Hudspeth and Johanna Rothe.

Ladies in Waiting: Mesdames Wm. A. Schmitt and Ida C. SoRelle.

The preparations for the fair has been a laborious job for the management and it is to be congratulated upon having everything in readiness. Go out and visit the Fair, speak a good word for it among your friends and neighbors and help Hondo to pull off a successful amusement stunt.

To the visitors to our town the Anvil Herald extends a cordial welcome. If you see what you want take it. A good time is here for you and we presume that is what you will come for. Hurrah for the Fair. Every body come, and bring a carnival spirit with you!

48 Engineers Built the HUDSON "37"

The 48 engineers who combined in building the HUDSON "37" were trained in 97 European and American factories. They had a hand in building more than 200,000 automobiles.

Under the direction of Howard E. Coffin, America's foremost automobile designer, these men joined, with all their experience and ingenuity, to build the best four Cylinder car of which they are capable.

Individuals have made great strides in motor car building. Many engineers have made notable reputation for themselves. But in every case the one man car has had some shortcomings due to oversight or lack of knowledge and experience. So in combining 48 men, these faults have been eliminated.

Tested 20,000 Miles Run

The HUDSON "37" was tested over the worst roads in America, through mountains in the winter and under every other trying condition, for strength.

The brutality of that test is equivalent to 40,000 miles of driving on the part of the owner. It proved that the HUDSON "37" is all that its 48 engineers meant it to be. The HUDSON "37" is as complete as any automobile can be. It is electrically self-cranking and electrically lighted, the system being integral with the ignition, known as Delco Patented.

Complete in Every Detail

The upholstery is soft and restful. The cushions are twelve inches deep. They are Turkish type.

Speedometer and clock are furnished as is also top, rain vision windshield, demountable rims, 36x4 tires, tools, full lamp equipment and every detail that adds to automobile comfort. In appointment it is the best we know.
